The Business Way!

The business way to advertise is to take space by your advertisements in making them attractive, and change them at least as often as once a month.

You may think there are seasons when you don't need to advertise.

We have never seen that time.

Use the dull seasons for looking over your stock and running off that which is becoming out of style or unfashionable, and giving bargains.

If you have space by the year, it costs you no more, and you can make it profitable by converting unsalable goods into money, and reinvesting the money in those things which are salable.

Where is That Banner Now?

Greenbury (Ind.) Review.—During the last campaign the Democrats of this city displayed a banner in their processions bearing this inscription:

VOTE FOR GROVER CLEVELAND
AND GET
$1.25 A BUSSEL
FOR YOUR WHEAT.

A liberal reward will be paid for that banner at this office, and no questions asked.

WE are sorry the press of the state has offended the dignity of the Paris newspapers, but we got our information from a gentleman who was in North Middletown and saw the whole affair, and he said it was a "fake" story.

THE Utah Legislature chosen at the recent election will be Republican on joint ballot by six votes. In Salt Lake City HARRY M. DUKE, City Treasurer, formerly of this city, was the only Democrat that was elected on the City Ticket.

In writing to a friend in this city he says the newspapers of that city are wondering how he escaped.

If McKINLEY should miss the Presidential nomination he has the strongest claim to a seat in the Senate. He delivered 112 speeches on the same subject—or practically one speech 112 times—in less than two months.—Bourbon News.

The above item was taken from a paper that wants "the people of the country to know that the newspapers of Bourbon county are a set of reliable gentlemen, not given to publishing fake stories." We are now thoroughly convinced of the fact that at least one of the number publishes fakes, as we know to a certainty that Mr. McKINLEY never delivered the same speech twice in his life, unless he was talking to a set of people like the man who wrote the above paragraph, and then he did it to make him understand it, for such people, you know, have to be told things so often before they even grasp the slightest idea of the subject. He wants to attract ex-Governor TAYLOR's lecture in that city the 29th and learn something about the "terrific" to which he belongs.

CHARLES E. MCCARTHY and Miss Mary A. Gahen were married this morning at 9 o'clock at the Catholic Church, the Rev. Father J. B. Glorieux officiating. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on the 10:10 train for Cincinnati to spend their honeymoon. We extend our congratulations.

A LETTER received from C. M. Gilpin of Marshall, Mo., brought the sad intelligence of the death of his sister Maggie at that place on the 17th. Just after they had buried her he received the sad intelligence from Washington City that his brother-in-law, Mr. Heard, had died, and his sister, Mrs. Mollie Heard, was very ill. Mr. Heard died of pneumonia. Mr. Gilpin will be remembered as a clerk in the late D. A. Richardson's wholesale grocery store in this city a long time ago, and his many friends in this city will regret to learn of his great misfortune.

The Rileys.
A fair-sized audience greeted the Rileys last evening in "Queen's," and everyone in the house was more than pleased with the performance. This is a splendid troupe, and the people will miss it if they don't attend.

To night the company will produce the famous military drama, "The French Spy," and we predict a crowded house.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a grand matinee, for which special prices will be arranged.

THE DEBATE
At the Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening—Crowded House.

The Hon. Franklin Lyndon held his regular weekly meeting last night, and the room was crowded to the door.

The subject for debate—"Should the President of the United States be Given to Women?"—was a good one, and the Lyndon thought that the fair sex ought to be entitled to a vote, so he thought they will vote—if they want to.

The debate for next Tuesday evening will be argued by four of the best men in the Lyndon, and there will be an interesting meeting.

On Wednesday evening there will be a supper in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. for the benefit of that organization, and a musical at the conclusion. The supper will be held from 5:30 o'clock to 7:45; the musical from 7:45 to 9:30. One price will be admitted to both—50 cents—and we can say in advance that you will be well fed and highly entertained.

FLAG AT HALF-MAST.

Department of Agriculture in Mourning Over the Death of Ex-Secretary Rusk.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Secretary Morton, at the cabinet meeting, called the attention of President Cleveland to the death of Ex-Secretary Rusk, and the president directed that an order be issued placing the flag over the department of agriculture at half-mast.

Secretary Morton, speaking of the late secretary, said: "I never saw him until I came to Washington last spring. I could not help liking him, as was the case with everybody else who knew him, the jovial, large-hearted man he was. I was pained when informed of his death."

Judge Holman, of Indiana, said: "Ex-Secretary Rusk was as good a man as I ever knew. He served two years in Congress with me, and there was no better congressman among the new men. He also made an excellent secretary of agriculture, coming to the office at a peculiarly fortunate time. His death is a great loss."

The department of agriculture will not be draped in mourning out of respect to the memory of Ex-Secretary Rusk, nor will the building be closed Tuesday nor on the day of the funeral, because of the adoption of the following amendment to the last legislative appropriation bill:

"Hereafter no building owned or used for public purposes by the government of the United States shall be draped in mourning, and no part of the public fund shall be used for such purposes."

"That hereafter the executive department of the government shall not be closed as a mark of respect to the memory of any deceased ex-official of the United States."

Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton issued the following order Tuesday:

"By direction of the president of the United States, the death Tuesday of Gen. J. M. Rusk, at his home, at Virgo, Wis., is announced. He was for the four years ending March 4, 1893, the secretary of the department of agriculture. Gen. Rusk was a brave and generous man. In military and civil life he was conspicuous for his services to the republic. Not for a generation will the American people forget him. This commemoration of his work is in accordance with an established custom, and in perfect harmony with the affectionate regard in which he was universally held by his countrymen. The United States flag at the department of agriculture is hereby ordered to remain at half-mast during the month."

MINISTER THURSTON,

In a Statement to the Public, Gets Back at Commissioner Blount.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Minister Thurston gave out a statement for publication Tuesday afternoon, in answer to Commissioner Blount's report on the dethronement of the Hawaiian queen. He refrains from discussing the situation from an official standpoint, but hauls the special agent over the coals personally. Thurston claims that the report is very unfair, and declares that none of the provisional government leaders were asked to give their side of the matter.

As to the landing of U. S. troops in Honolulu Minister Thurston says: "I hereby state that although the presence of the American troops had a quieting effect on the rough element in the city and may have prevented some bloodshed, they were not essential to and did not assist in the overthrow of the queen. The result of the movement would have been the same if there had not been a marine within 1,000 miles of Honolulu."

"In support of this statement, I cite the following facts:

"The troops did not land till Monday night, the 16th of January, after the revolution had been in full progress since the afternoon of Saturday, the 14th, during which time the committee of safety was openly organized for the avowed purpose of overthrowing the queen."

A Murderess' Request.

KOKOMO, Ind., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Augusta Schmidt, the wealthy daughter of a German baroness, who was indicted for murder in the first degree for the killing of her tenant, J. Oscar Walton, at the town of Walton, a month ago, was granted a change of venue to this city, her former home, for trial next month. She is now in jail at Logan-sport.

"No Politics in Love."

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 22.—Louis G. Stevenson, only son and private secretary of Vice President Stevenson, was married Thursday to Miss Helen Louise Davis. The event is of unusual interest and significance from the fact that, while the groom is the son of a prominent democrat, his bride is the sister of a family of life-long and radical republicans.

Truce Among Irish Politicians.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A meeting of the Irish parliamentary party is said to have done much to restore harmony in the party, though the proceedings were protracted and lively. A compact was made with the Parnellites by which a portion of the Parnell fund will be handed to Mr. John Redmond, the Parnellite leader.

Lives Lost in a Fire.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Fire broke out shortly after midnight Wednesday morning in New Bern, Tenn., destroying the opera house and the buildings of Wilson & Bradshaw, J. H. Swindler, H. Williamson and B. Cox. Several lives were lost, among them being J. E. Bradshaw.

Gen. Harrison Will Attend.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—Ex-President Harrison forwarded a telegram Tuesday night that he would attend the funeral of Ex-Secretary Rusk, and that he would leave for Wisconsin on Thursday.
